1. Read the statements and tick (✓) the ones you agree with.
(E10.6.R1.)

- ☐ You must choose a job according to your abilities.
- ☐ You should get information about a workplace before applying.
- ☐ You mustn't ignore your interests when choosing a career.

Choosing a career is an important step in life. There are some rules and advice you should follow to make the right decision.

First, you must know your strengths. If you are good at a subject, you must focus on it. If you are successful in computer science and technology, you must choose a job in IT. You should study regularly and get the necessary certificates to work as a software developer or a computer programmer.

Second, you should think about your interests. If you enjoy art and design lessons, you must become a graphic designer. If you like geography and travelling, you must choose a job as a tour guide. When you enjoy your job, you feel more motivated.

Third, you must think about your personal skills. If you are good at communication and helping people, you can work as a counsellor. If you are organised and careful, you should consider becoming an accountant.

Finally, the workplace is very important. You should research the company before applying for a job. You mustn't apply for a job without learning about its working conditions, rules and expectations.

2. Read the text and match the sentence halves.

Reading Activity

8. Read the conversation and answer the questions. (E10.6.R1.)

Mia: Hi Alex, do you know the rules of a public library?

Alex: Yes, I do. We must keep quiet in the library.

Mia: That makes sense. What about using mobile phones?

Alex: We should turn our phones to silent mode. Loud noises disturb others.

Mia: Are there any rules about books?

Alex: Yes. We must return the books on time.

Mia: What happens if someone damages a book?

Alex: They should inform the librarian and follow the library regulations.

Mia: So, why are these rules important?

Alex: Because they help everyone study and read in a peaceful environment.

- a. What is one rule about behaviour in the library? .....
- b. What advice is given about mobile phones? .....
- c. What regulation is mentioned about library books? .....
- d. Why does Alex think library rules are important? .....
