

Answer Key

1.

- I) Topic Sentence – introduces the idea of promoting children's rights
 (II) Supporting Idea – example from Sweden
 (III) Supporting Idea – example from South Africa
 (IV) Topic Sentence – introduces the idea of education's role in human rights
 (V) Supporting Idea – example from Germany

2.

1. equal
2. religion
3. freedom
4. slavery
5. torture
6. justice

3.

Right To Equality:

"Equality For All – Respect, Support, And Raise Public Awareness!"

Right To Education:

"Every Child Deserves An Equal Chance To Learn – Education Is A Right, Not A Privilege!"

Freedom Of Thought:

"Think Freely, Express Openly – Discrimination Has No Place In Our Society!"

4.

- They are important because they protect people from unfair treatment and help create equality in society.
- Governments should create strong laws to protect human rights. They should make sure everyone is treated fairly, and they should punish those who abuse others.
- Yes. In some countries, people can't speak freely or vote. Others may face discrimination because of their race, religion, or gender. Child labor and unfair working conditions are also big problems in some places.
- We can speak up when we see bullying or unfair treatment. We can join school projects, raise awareness, or support human rights groups.

5.

equal rights		Positive
slavery		Negative
discrimination		Negative
freedom of expression		Positive
safety		Positive
violations		Negative
democracy		Positive
torture		Negative
unfair		Negative
access to education		Positive

6.

- Disadvantaged people are homeless people, refugees, people with disabilities, orphans, and the elderly.
- They have problems like no home, no education, no health care, and unfair treatment.
- Some people become disadvantaged because of poverty, war, natural disasters, illness, or unfairness in society.
- People can help by volunteering, giving donations, or telling others about their problems.

7.

- a. extra
- b. Volkan (Topic: Right to education)
- c. Seda (Topic: Refugee rights)
- d. Aylin (Topic: Freedom of speech)

8. (Sample Solutions)

- All children should go to school for free.
- People can give food to poor families.
- People should see a doctor without paying a lot of money.
- The government can build houses for people with no home.
- There should be rules to protect poor and weak people.
- Volunteers can help children or old people.