Causative Form (Have Something Done)

Have + object + past participle (V3) - Present Tense

- We use the expression "to have something done" to say:

- That somebody does something for you. Usually they're things that are difficult to do yourself or you don't want to do yourself.
- I paint the house. → I have the house painted.
- Martin cuts the grass. → Martin has the grass cut.
- I wash my car every weekend. → I have my car washed every weekend.

Have + object + past participle (V3) - Modals (should - have to - must etc.)

- I should have my hair cut.
- I must have my washing machine fixed.
- Sue needs to have the windows cleaned.
- My trousers are too long. I should have them shortened.
- My computer crashed. I must have it formatted.
- My house is too dirty. It's necessary to have it cleaned.

Have + object + past participle (V3) - Past Simple

- I cleaned my office yesterday. → I had the office cleaned.
- Susan dyed her hair last week. → Susan had her hair dyed.
- Betty had her tooth pulled.
- I had my car fixed last month.

* We can use the verb get instead of the verb have in informal conversation.

Fiona had her car repaired yesterday.

Martin had his hair cut last week.
