5. Sample answers:

Cars: I think people will travel in self-driving electric cars in the year 2100.

Schools: I believe robots and teachers will teach students together in the future.

Robots: In my opinion, robots will do housework and help people at home.

Space Travel: I think humans will go to the Moon or Mars for holidays.

(T.9.8.1)Jack: Hey guys! Who wants to go to the cinema tonight?Mike: I'm in! What's showing?Jack: There is a new documentary about climate change.Sarah: Are you kidding? That sounds boring. It's not my cup of tea. I want to see something exciting.Mike: Well, how about The Time Loop? It's a mystery film. The main character travels back in time. Reviews say the plot is very clever.Sarah: Is it scary? I'm not brave enough to watch horror movies.Jack: Don't worry, it's not a horror movie. It's more of a thriller.Sarah: Alright, fair enough.Jack: Let's watch that. I think we will enjoy trying to solve the puzzle.Sarah: Awesome! I'll buy the popcorn.(T.9.8.2)

Harry: Do you like watching films, Olivia?

Olivia: Of course! I love movies. My favourite genres are comedy and adventure. What about you?

Harry: I enjoy those too, but I'm really into science fiction. I think sci-fi films show us life in the future.

Olivia: That's true. They usually have cool ideas about space and technology. What is your favourite thing about them?

Harry: I like the ideas about time travel and robots. It is fascinating to imagine the world in the year 3000.

Olivia: Do you think these things will happen in real life?

Harry: I think so. In the future, artificial intelligence will be everywhere. Maybe robots will do all our housework.

Olivia: That sounds great! And what about space exploration?

Harry: I believe humans will travel to other planets. Maybe we will meet aliens one day.

Olivia: I hope they will be friendly! Do you think cinema will change too?

Harry: Definitely. I predict that films will become more realistic. We will use virtual reality headsets to walk inside the movie scenes.

Olivia: That will be incredible! It will feel like a real adventure.

Harry: Exactly.
